

2027 Newmar Bay Star 3626

Price on Application

Enquire Now

Scan the QR code below
for more information

|                                                                                                               |                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|  RV TypeClass A  |  Stock #M153345 |  Length (ft)37.0 ft |  Sleeping Capacity5 |
|  Weight30000 Lbs |  Slideouts4     |                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                     |

2027 Newmar Bay Star 3626, The 2025 Newmar Bay Star 3626 is a Class A motorhome that offers a comfortable and convenient travel experience. Built on a reliable Ford F53 chassis and powered by a 7.3-liter V8 engine with 335 horsepower and 468 lb-ft of torque, the 3626 ensures a smooth ride. Measuring approximately 36.92 feet in length and 8.46 feet in width,...

Sales Demo - RV

Call us on 877-872-3373

4525 Main St Suite 1101, Virginia Beach, VA, 23462

Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of the information above, however, errors may occur.